“ Mike was the finest man I ever known. He loved what he did and was the definition of professionalism in the field. Mike was a very private man but did share with others the torment from a past he couldn't escape and those who took total advantage of his hard work and kindness had broken his spirit. He often talked about the one person he could count on no matter the situation.

Uplifting that person his sister (Susan) today. His loss is very tragic yet I found peace in knowing God seen fit to bring him on home and end his suffering. The electrical community lost a great man and my friend. You will be greatly missed!

“ I am very privileged to have had Michael in my life for 44 years. More than uncle, more than engineer, he was genuinely a true friend. Tender hearted, compassionate, loyal. Always the first to arrive and help with every need of his family. Growing up over the years he always gave the coolest and best Christmas presents having put so much thought into them, we felt Santa made them just for us. Science projects in school were a blast as he always had the best Ideas and was always willing and eager to help. When I had a computer problem, which was many, Mike could fix it in minutes! Michael loved education, he had a hunger for knowledge and broke the boundaries for higher learning in all of his family. Michael was a genius. There was never a question or a math problem that was too hard for him to help me with. He was a simple small town poor country boy who bought his own first car, paid for his own braces, put himself and paid his own way through college, which he kept going continually earning multiple degrees. Michael was a true success story. I am honored to have been able to call him my uncle. He will be greatly greatly missed.

“ Dear Family,
I have only known and worked with Mike a few short months. In the short time I have known him, I thank God that He has allowed our paths to cross. Mike is a true friend, a devoted father and for certain a humble and compassionate person to those he came in contact with. He dearly loved his children and family (sister) and I'm certain will be missed by all.

“ I was about 11 when Michael was born and remember him as a sweet, fun-loving boy. As his aunt, I was around him for many years and lived just a few steps from his house. He would come to our house to see his grandma and grandpa and he would sit in the big recliner with his grandpa and laugh as they would spin all kinds of yarns. My heart goes out to the rest of the family as we grieve this loss, but I know God will be here to help us. Evelyn Galloway
