“ Dear, dad
When a daughter is first born they always say that her favorite person in her life is her mother. Yes, this is true but she builds a special bond with her daddy. As many people say that I was not actually his daughter. He always told me I was. From the the day I was four months old he has always loved me and cared for me like a dad should when my wasn't there and has gave me everything and made me feel special as some days weren't as good as others. He has made every moment of My life special. He will be dearly missed and forever loved. Love you daddy. Love your daughter, liyah
