“ So as we grow older I find myself remembering my sweet southern aunts and cousins showering me with kisses and hugs while in their company. Singing hymns on the porch and guitar picking right along, Homemade ice cream, walking up to the store to get a "coke". Those are the sweetest memories I can think of. I stayed a week one time with my Aunt Gladys. All those girls getting all dressed up ready for their boyfriends to pick them up for Friday night dates. Gail and I watched as each boy picked the sisters up, Nancy, Shirley, Bobbie Jean, Mary, Judy. Tony was probably playing the guitar and singing as always, and Bertie and Edgar already married, I think Ruby had already moved out. Ginger was there with Mike, because Edgar was overseas. I loved you all, but mostly Gail, 3 years older than me. Sending love to you all from my Mom and Dad, brother Weldon and sister Tammy.

I loved her visiting us in Clovis and going to her house and sitting on the front porch with her, my sister and a lot of our cousins just talking. She is going to be greatly missed!

WE

Gail and I were close 1st cousins, all her sisters teasing us that we were 'kissing' cousins. Not true, but Gail was a beauty back in the day. We talked about everything under the Sun and enjoyed taking walks together. Gail was like a third sister, one whom I always cherished. Goodbye, Sweetie (she always called me that, as well as everyone she knew. To know Gail was to love her.
