“ I miss you brother. I still can't believe this has happened to you. Just like that and you were gone. You got up that morning with plans for the day but The Lord said no Brian you're coming on home today. That day in the car before you wrecked you thought you were going somewhere else and the whole time you were driving straight to the promise land. You had no idea you were driving to go see mama. One day I'm gonna be getting out of bed with my day planned out and The Lord is gonna say not today you're coming on home. Until that day comes I'll be missing you. I Love you. Thank you to everyone who has been there through all if this and has helped out however you could. Thank you to mountain view. The view of the mountains from his burial site is beautiful.

“ Brian and i shared so much through the years, we went through peewee ball together.. Of course i was a cheerleader though, that was before girls could do everything boys could do.. We had spiritual experience and were baptized together along side my mother. He was my shoulder to cry on my voice of reason when i couldnt make sense of anything. He had a special way of reaching ppl , oh his laugh was like no other.. If i couldn't make heads or tails of something he saw me through it , often in laughter.. We had special kind of relationship it was more than friendship but it wasnt romantic... He just knew Me and i knew him .. Ive been closer to him than my own brothers, u see he was one of three men in my lifetime that loved me unconditionally.. One of those three being my son, the other God... He never judged me or sugar coated anything, sometimes i think he knew me better than i knew my self.. I know in my heart Family was the most important thing to brian becausehis mama raised him that way.. I could go on and on but needless to say brian was my faimly in so many ways, i know hes watching down on all of us now especially his children, yall will have the best gaurdian angel forever in your corner so cocider it a blessing..

“ Brian was my cousin. He was my friend. He was a man with a big heart. He always made you laugh even if you wanted to cry. He loved his family and friends, he never met a stranger, and treated others the way he wanted to be treated. When he loved he loved with his whole heart, not just a piece of it. We were raised, by loving mothers and fathers, that we both lost to soon. He was kind. I'm so glad me and him were close and I never lost touch with him. Its crazy not being able to say I need to call my cuzzo and see how he is. I know how he is. We here on earth lost a great loving soul, but Heaven gained another Angel . I miss you, I love you, til we meet again.

“ Brain Lyda was like the son I never had.Linda his mother and I raised our kids around each other. After his mother's passing his stepped up to take care of his family as a man when he was just a young man himself. Brain was all about his work family and fishing... Oh how he loved fishing. Through the yeard as life went on we didn't see one other much.I had the gift of the passed few months of having him back in my life and hearing his laughter.He could be going through his on pain but laughter was always their .Brain reached out to people he was just like that.. I am truly blessed for the fishing he took my grandson Benjamin to do . I loved this boy ...man which will be missed by so many .I will celebrate his memory by telling the stories to his children and friends just as I do about his mother Linda. I love you.
