“ When my mother and sassy were pregnant together they'd said that they'd bumped bellies and that parker and I had switched, ironically I look like sassy and parker looks like my mother same with our personalities. I loved sassy like I love my own mom and I will never forget her graciousness and empathy for others and especially her love for our Heavenly Father. I love you and I miss you dearly from the tenderness of my heart.

“ There will never be another like Sassy! She knew how to light up a room since birth. She loved so strongly and stayed positive through a life that wasn't always easy. She will be missed.
