“ Such a great man and a great friend! One of God's masterpieces for sure. We will see you in Heaven one day! Very few have made such a great impression in my life as Clyde. He was and still is a special breed. A true Christian and lived it happily every single day.

“ Broken hearted today as another one of the “great” generation has gone home. I didn’t know so many years ago how much Clyde and his family would mean to me. Loving the memories I have with the Callahan family and of course ole pappy..... I will never forget to “not worry about the mule, and just load the wagon.”

“ I am so thankful for the opportunity I had to work with Pop. There is no way I could explain what it was about him but I immediately knew we could be friends. Once when I missed work due to sickness, Pop called late in the day to check on me. I don't remember a coworker ever doing that. That is the difference in a coworker and a friend. Fifteen years later, I still have his voice message. Fortunately he found a place to spit his Grizzly dip before he left his message or I may have thought someone was drowning.

I love you Pop and I'm thankful to know you and I will work together again one day.
