Ernie was my best friend. He had more patience than anybody Ive ever met. He loved and talked about his kids all the time. When he was with them it just seemed like he couldn't get enough of them. He had a passion for speed and music. He loved to ride and sing his favorite songs. I loved being around Ernie because he was always happy and loved to make other people happy. Friends, strangers Ernie had something to say to make them smile. I had know him for about 4 years and I do not have one bad memory. Whenever he was around everything was good. I miss him a lot and talk about him often.
