“ Even though we were cousins, Junior was more like a brother to me. He was always there for me. I will miss his smile, sense of humor, honesty and his friendship. We shared many things together and visited each other as often as we could after I left the farm in 1958 to enter a military career and financial career after that. Junior and I loved reading our "western paperbacks" and shared them with each other. Junior is gone and will be greatly missed but never forgotten.
