

Floyd James Galloway

January 21, 1934 - April 7, 2025

Floyd James Galloway
Easley, South Carolina

January 21, 1934 – April 7, 2025

Floyd James Galloway, age 91, passed away on Monday, April 7, 2025, at his home. He was born on January 21, 1934, in Oconee County to Alan and Sophie Cannon Galloway. He was married to his second wife, Ruby Galloway, for 39 years.

Mr. Galloway worked for many years in the textile industry, and he also raised and sold cattle for many years while living in Salem, SC. When he remarried and moved to Easley, SC, he continued to work in textiles and also operated his own manufacturing business, Galloway Unlimited, where he designed and made reed hooks for the textile industry. His products were sold worldwide. In addition, he was a jack of all trades and could build and fix just about anything! He enjoyed gardening and had a vegetable garden every summer. He also enjoyed woodworking in his shop and sold or gifted many of the items that he made.

Mr. Galloway is survived by his son, Ron Galloway (Debra), his grandson, Eric Galloway, as well as his great-grandson, Easton Galloway, all of Easley, SC.

Easton always brought a smile to his Papa Floyd's face when he visited – either in person or via FaceTime. He is also survived by a grandson, Brad Galloway, of Anderson, SC.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his second wife, Ruby Galloway, his son, Terry Galloway, and his sister and brother-in-law, Gladys and Walter Herron.

A funeral service will be held on Friday, April 11, 2025, at 11:00 AM in the chapel of Mountain View Funeral Home with interment to follow the service at Hillcrest Memorial Park in Pickens. The family will greet family and friends after the burial.

Flowers are accepted or memorials may be made in Mr. Galloway's memory to a favorite charity.

Mountain View Funeral Home is assisting the family of Mr. Galloway.
