“ Harold,

Out west on business as the news of your untimely passing reached me.

You know, this is a day of sadness for those that spent a lot of time with you and joy, knowing that you went to a better place. Frank, Cheryl, and myself, having reached ages of biblical proportions, are right behind you.

Going to put a smile on your face, reminding you of all the memorable weekends we spent at the beach. I trust you remember Frank was condemned to march back to the house for daiquiri refills in the RED milk can. Will send you a picture of it.

All the best & love,

Manfred

“ Cathie and I had the occasion to meet Harold a couple of years ago on a trip back East. We sure enjoyed the short visit with him while visiting his daughter and son-in-law. He will truly be missed by his family. Now he can Rest In Peace.
