

Rev. James Douglas McManus

December 11, 1940 - May 4, 2024

Rev. James Douglas McManus
Pickens, South Carolina

Rev. James Douglas McManus, 83, loving husband of 57 years to Margaret Elizabeth Rodee McManus, went home to be with his Lord and Savior on Saturday, May 4, 2024, at his home.

Born December 11, 1940, in Chicago, Illinois, James was the son of the late Fred J. McManus and Elizabeth Hunter McManus. Rev. McManus served in the ministry for 54 years, where he served in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Florida, and ended his ministry in South Carolina as a hospice chaplain. Jim loved his family dearly.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret Elizabeth Rodee McManus of the home; two sons, Stephen McManus (Heidi) of Greer, SC, and Mark McManus (Terri) of Chesapeake, VA; four grandchildren, Ashleigh, Kathryn, Campbell, and Jaxon; and two great-grandchildren, Victoria, and Samuel.

In addition to his parents, Rev. McManus was predeceased by a brother, Don McManus.

Mountain View Funeral Home – Pickens Chapel is serving the McManus family.

“ The loss of this fine pastor saddens me. We worked together for a long while in hospice work. His compassion and concern for every patient inspired me to follow his style and abilities. His pastoral presence will terribly missed. David Boyter.

“ Jim was the first chaplain I worked with. He was very kind. He had a great pastoral presence. He was one of best chaplains there ever was. It was my great privilege to work alongside of him.

“ I remember Mr. McManus from twenty four years ago when my mother was in the hospital at Greenville Memorial. He stopped by early one morning while we were sitting in the waiting area with a bag of biscuits and a much needed word of encouragement, He will always be remembered in my heart. My prayers to the family.

“ My Pastor from St. Edward's days. Very humble and gentle. Was so supportive of me as a single mother and my 2 sons. He and Margy were very instrumental in nurturing my spiritual growth as a new Christian. ❤️
