“ Good times my friend. So much laughter we had at work and when we would go out to eat. We would talk about our Tigers and many other things. You were loved by so many. You always cheered me up when I was down. And calmed me down when I wanted to quit. You kept me from filing a report against certain person. We would laugh so hard at things we did like the Chunky candy bar with the chunky bathing beauty statue. It was an honor to have you as a friend, and coworker. You are now free of pain and the oxygen tank. You will be missed
