“ Jarvis was truly a great Christian influence to everyone who knew him, he always talked about his love for his family and for God. I know these days will be difficult but he left many friends who will be praying for your family.
I have heard testimony from so many co-workers who held respectful thought.
God bless and comfort you.

“ My condolences on the loss of a wonderfully witty, funny and humble man. I worked with Jarvis for many years at both Singer and Ryobi and always enjoyed our time together. Lots of good times to remember....I also remember he was a solid believer in Christ and many of the scripture conversations we had. He will be missed, but thank God he will live again in resurrection on that day. Rest in peace my friend!

“ Uncle Jarvis was a fine man. Always willing to help someone with the task at hand and always kind. He never thought he was too old to learn from younger people. He and I had many conversations about fishing that we would share information about. As a boy growing up it seemed like he could fix anything from trucks to well pumps. One thing you could always count on when you were around Uncle Jarvis was you were going to laugh he was always fun to be around. Rest easy Uncle Jarvis. I'll see you later.
