“ While I may have only known you 12 years, I’m glad I had that time to have you as my papa. You welcomed me into your family the minute you met me and I’ll never forget that. I’m glad my Cody got to meet you and she always be papa’s babydoll. You are seriously one of the greatest, kindest, genuine people I’ve ever met. I love you so much. You will most definitely never be forgotten, everything in this house reminds us of you. ”

“ Johnny Bradley was a kind and generous man who quietly gave to the Country Santa program for years. He wanted the children in the upstate to have the joy of a blessed Christmas, and he sacrificed to make sure they did. His heart was very caring and generous, but he wasn't trying to get attention for himself. He had a heart for children and this was one way that he could support those children who might not have a Christmas. "He who blesses others will himself be blessed." Proverbs 11:25 I am thankful for the blessing of Johnny Bradley.

“ Uncle Johnny is one of a kind. Johnny always had the best smile and a twinkle in his eye, mostly because he was up to something or about to give you a hard time. I have so many fond memories growing up with him, Aunt Pat, & Cindy. But my fondest memories are of our Easter dinners. He was always manning the grill with hamburgers and hot dogs! He always greeted me with a "Hey Boo". I hated that nickname as a teenager but loved that he always called me that even after I was grown. We will miss you Uncle Johnny. I wish I'd spent more time with y'all once I had a family of my own. I will keep your beautiful wife & daughter & all those grand kids in my prayers. Rest in Peace, Johnny. God gained a fine angel yesterday!

*You got that right!
He would still call me shell.
The angles have to be singing. Because they got amazing angle. He will be truly missed.
Keeping all his love ones in my prayers.*
