“ Still can't believe you're gone. It makes me sad to think we live in a world were you're not. Ken and Terry were part of our family before I even have memories. I grew up thinking of them both as older brothers and I love them both as such. I just hope they both know that.I always thought of Ken as lovable teddy bear. I haven't seen Ken a lot in recent years but the last time I did he had that infectious smile that he had as soon as he saw me (anyone who knew him knows the smile I'm talking about) and he wrapped me in a hug just as he always did. To say he will be missed is an understatement. Love you lots , Ken. Rest easy big guy.
