“ Nothing has quite prepared me for the pain of losing my precious mama. I talked to her every day. It has been so hard not talking to her. She was always there for me in good times and bad. She was the best mama in the world. She loved everyone and enjoyed being with her family. This past two weeks have been hard watching her deteriorate each day. I thank God I work with great people that let me stay the last week with her. It is a time I will cherish forever. Until we meet again mama. I love you with all my heart.

“ Her golden heart stopped beating Two willing hands are still. The one who toiled so hard for us Is resting at God's will. But as we look with gladness Upon the years she trod- We Bless those years of happiness, And leave the rest to God.
