“ Angela, I am so very sorry your precious Logan was called home at such a young age but we have to trust in Jesus, knowing that Logan was needed in Heaven more than here on Earth. I am praying that the Lord will wrap his arms around you, Logan's dad, siblings, extended family, and friends during this dark time and cover each of you with peace that surpasses all understanding. From a mother who has been where you are right now, I promise you, the light will shine again for you and although your life will forever be changed, please know that Logan will always be near in spirit and lean on God's promise that you WILL see him again ❤️
With Love,

“ *Dear Angela, Jimmy and Family,
Word are inadequate to express how sorry I am for the loss of your precious Logan. I know how much you love him and that your lives will never be the same. He was very special to me. I remember him especially as a child in my Sunday School class st Secona. He was so sweet and such a loving, thoughtful child. And as he grew up, he was everything a parent hopes for in a child. I know you are so proud of him. We will never understand in this life why a tragedy like this happens but one day you will know fully. Until then, I pray that God will give you strength beyond your comprehension to face each day. And I pray that you will feel His love for you and find comfort and peace during this hard time, knowing Logan is safe in the arms of Jesus, still loving you and waiting for you.
My deepest sympathy, love and prayers,
Judy Wood*
