“ The thing that I remember most about Pat was him always impersonating Macho Man Randy Savage. He sounded just like him and tried to make the moves he did while he was saying his catch phrases. He was a riot to watch.

Most recently, it was great catching up with him at the Hackers Unite gathering. Was so happy that he and Joann could come up. The day after, he came to our house for a cookout. It was great seeing him interact with the grandkids and Dani. Justin also loves the homemade hot sauce and chili peppers that Uncle Pat made. We hold him near and dear to our hearts.

Joann, Dani and all of the rest of the family, our thoughts, prayers and love go out to all of you.

*Always with love,
Sharon Hacker and Family*
