“ My Daddy was a loving Father and Grandfather. He was a true Artist to his craft blacksmithing and fabrication what I seen as perfection he would say no I'm still learning it's far from perfect. He loved to learn anything he could he had a thirst for knowledge he would take raw metal and transform it to a masterpiece. He loved his family his Grand children Michaela Scott, Ashley Cantrell, Colt Lesley and friends Phil Powell and Van McCall as his brothers they were inseparable. He was a very kind humble soul. He would create Chandliers in his forge and never take credit for his work he would say I knew what I did so do you thats enough. My world will never be the same I lost my best friend my father but I was blessed enough to had known him and have him in my and my children's lives and I learned so much from him, I have the memory's forever he will live on through us all.
