“ I met Roger through my mother, Diane, who worked with him at the Dollar Tree. Where I in turn met Landon and Lynn. Landon, myself and another friend went to a concert together, made friends with the whole family. Roger was always the kindest soul to my entire family. We became his family. Even my husband, he spoke to him like he'd known him forever and took him right in too. When my father died, Roger and Lynn both were right there for my mom, checking on her, offering dinners etc. and just a short year and a half later when my mother passed as well, I can't explain the amount of comfort Roger offered and how much his words of my parents meant, and still mean. Each year on the anniversary of her passing I read what he wrote, tagging me and my brother in it and it just always comforted me knowing how much he loves us all. My husband and I just saw him few months back at Lowe's, and stood out and talked to him for a while, never thought I'd be mourning him at this time, but I'm sure thankful to have met him and this family and to have had him in our families lives. So much Love and prayers to you Lynn, Landon and Ms Phyllis.

My heart aches for the family such a dear soul now he's flying in the heavens he will never be forgotten thoughts and prayers sent to the family

“ Aunt Lynn,- Landon, You both know how I feel about my very special Uncle. My relationship with Roger meant the world to me. He was a father figure, my counselor, my genealogy partner, my confidant, sometimes my correctional guide post but more than anything he was my Uncle! He understood what it meant to be an uncle, not just to me but to all his nieces and nephews! I will miss very much our four hour long conversations, our trips and excursions. I will very much miss my friendship with him! Much love

“ I remain somewhat stunned at the rapidity of this terrible disease. Roger was a good man. I think he could have been a successful short story author. He was highly principled, and would readily defend those who would not/ could not defend themselves. If anyone deserves to hear, “well done my good and faithful servant”, it is Roger.
Prayers, thoughts, and condolences to Lynn, Landon, and family.

“ Lynn and Landon, Words don't come to me about Roger. I am heart broken as I know you are. He was my baby brother and I loved him like my own child. So sorry for your loss.

The last Time I talked to Roger, he said, "Don't worry, I'm OK". And he is ok now with his savior. If we can help in any way, let us know. Rick & Kat

“ I have fond memories as a child being at their old home place playing with Gary and watching Roger as he toddled around. There was something special about visiting with them.

What a reunion that is going on in heaven now! The family is reuniting for eternity.

I'm thankful for the times spent with their family and for hearing all his process thru the family history in these later years.

Love to you all. You are in my prayers.

Let me know if you ever want to visit.

“ I graduated High School with Roger in 1979. He was a quiet person back then. We reconnected on Facebook and then at one of our class reunions. He was always full of spirituality, positively, and a loyal friend. He gave me many woodworking tips. His wit and political insight will be missed. I am so sorry that you did not get to enjoy your full retirement. Rest easy friend. Hugs! 🙏🙏🙏

I am truly heart broken to hear of your passing. You were one of my best friends in high school!! I cherished your opinion and always looked forward hearing what you had to say! Like most we lost touch after high school, but like Renee said we all reconnected on Facebook. I am sad that I never got one of your wood pieces. But rest easy sweet friend, I know you are smiling being reunited with your parents and siblings. Lynn and Landon I will be praying for you both.
