“ Scott was truly a one of a kind. He was always laid back and way going. I've known him roughly 10 years and really within those 10 years he became family to me. He's always had a heart of gold. He helped me through some rough times. He always had a way of making sure everybody felt appreciated and cared for. We may not have spoke every day, but we made up for it when we did get on the phone. He just truly had one of those souls that you don't see much of anymore. I'm truly going to miss him. This picture was taken at a concert in Atlanta last year. He really loved his music.
