“ I have several memories but once we were on a business trip and shared a room . She choose to come back to the room early(I wasn't attending the dinner) and visit with me. We laughed, talked about claims but most of all she shared the word. I can still see this well worn brown Bible . I was the lucky one to talk with her or text after she retired.

I called her “the Warrior Princess”. I will miss her like many the rest of my life.
