“ I taught Dalton in the 5th grade. He always brightened my day! He had the sweetest smile and personality to match. I am praying for his family, especially his sisters. I know how hard it is to lose a big brother.

“ I still can't believe this is real. You are like a bonus son to me, you went to school with my boys and y'all were friends you would come to the house and was always respectful and used great manners. I absolutely loved it when y'all were all together at the house it did my heart good to see y'all all out there throwing a football or just standing around the vehicles hanging out like teenagers do laughing and joking and horseplaying. I love you young man, rest easy and enjoy all of the amazing/ beautiful things God has for you up there with no pain, no sorrow, no hurt.
